Cultural Event 2: EDP Expo

The second cultural event that I went to this quarter involving digital media and creativity with coding was the EDP Expo. This event took place in the same place as the DU Arcade in Shwayder. In it there were a ton of really interesting art pieces all involving emergent digital practices. I really loved this event, making art using technology is always really cool to me. There were several pieces that were particularly interesting to me, probably my favorite was this one piece where a glass box contained in a foggy atmosphere and you could only slightly see the natural and artificial items inside. I don't know what it was about that specific piece but it just really nailed the atmosphere and gave off a very eerie presence.
